Message

FROM THE CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER

Dear Valued Distributors,

Good Morning !

We have received overwhelming responses from all the overseas branches worldwide about the book “My Journey with DXN” by our Founder & CEO Dato’ Dr. Lim Siow Jin. Many branches overseas have translated the book into their native languages. An effort is being taken to translate the book into more languages to meet the demand of the global network of DXN.

There are a few basic questions frequently raised by members about this book with the answers provided for your perusal:

1. As a person who meets with entrepreneurs all over the world, what will they learn most from the book?

There are a lot of lessons that could be learned from the book not just by the entrepreneurs or members but by everybody at large. One of the core lessons to be picked up could be to know about what has helped DXN to survive in all the adversities and challenges over 26 years.

The answer lies in the Natural Approach practiced by DXN. This Natural Approach can be summarized in three simple ways as per my message published through the 3rd Quarter of 2018 in the DXN Good Morning Magazine and thus not to be elaborated further here.

2. Do you think this book should only be read by DXN members?

Certainly not. The book is of great value for those who want to excel in life. It is a good motivational book that gives you the necessary tools you need to help you succeed, especially in dealing with serious challenges and in making tough life decisions. The book is also full of passion and it promotes righteousness. These elements are crucial for those who are serious in pursuing a meaningful and successful life.

3. Which chapter would you like to recommend to the members who are tired of challenges?

When members are tired of challenges, they should think about what motivated them to join the DXN business in the first place — to achieve their dreams. DXN has continued to contribute to the improvement of the lives of many people around the world, especially those in the countryside and the underprivileged, by offering them a business opportunity that is stable for their family, to attain financial success, to help them finance their children’s education, to enable them to buy their dream house, to travel around the world, and to allow them to afford a healthy and decent living.

4. What would be your message to the DXN members?

Life is full of challenges and we should treat these challenges as golden opportunities to uplift ourselves to the next level of growth. Just like a marathon runner who enjoys his every pace without concern of his destination, you must also enjoy every step along the way without worrying about the obstacles you encounter as you move forward in achieving your dream using the DXN as a platform for your growth.

Thank you!

FROM THE COUNTRY MANAGER

Good Morning!

Bill Gates once said – “If I would be given a chance to start all over again, I would choose Network Marketing”-such a statement signifies the strength Network Marketing has. If you look around, you will see many businesses having a great loss, many job opportunities being stolen, salaries being cut, etc. With a business where you are your own boss, you get a wider scope to take control of your life.

When you join DXN, you automatically become an independent businessperson, a self-made man, and you unknowingly work a lot in shaping your personality. Your personality develops automatically when you communicate with people, speak in meetings, manage your downline, maintain decorum, generate leads, handles emails and website which improves your communicating skills, management skills, disciplines, consistency, focus, confidence, etc.

In the current scenario, Direct Selling is one of the fastest-growing businesses among passionate, hardworking and dedicated people.

According to WFDSA, the Direct Selling Industry is keeping up the growth momentum and the industry recorded a figure of $192.9 Billion USD sales. 118.4 million people involved in direct selling globally. This figure includes over 53 million Independent Representatives who are working to build their direct selling businesses either as a full-time career or part-time to earn supplemental income.

The scope of the industry is huge and Philippines contribution to the above figure is $1372 (USD Millions) with a 9.3% increase YOY in 2018 sales. We have also witnessed the significant increment in sales here in DXN Philippines and I see this momentum is getting stronger with every passing month in 2019.

With DXN a healthy life in a Wealthy manner is very much possible.

Wish you all great success!

God Bless you all!

God Bless DXN Philippines!

Total Wellness, Total Well-being

Total wellness is not just the state of being in good health or being free from illness. It is a dynamic process of change and development, an active process of achieving a healthy and fulfilling life. According to The World Health Organization, "Wellness is a state of complete physical, mental, and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity." Wellness is the key element of quality life. It determines how we fundamentally look, feel, interact with others and manage life and work.

The various concepts of wellness encompass at least the following principles:

Holism

According to the dictionary, "Holism is the theory that parts of a whole are in intimate interconnection, such that they cannot exist independently of the whole, or cannot be understood without reference to the whole, which is thus regarded as greater than the sum of its parts."

Almost the same principle is applied in "Sonyata" which is being practiced by Datuk Dr. Lim Siow Jin, the DXN CEO and Founder. It's about the interrelatedness of things. Your health and well-being are the product of the continual interrelationship between the several natural dimensions of life. Each dimension is interconnected with another.

There are eight dimensions of wellness: physical, emotional, mental, social, occupational, financial, environmental, and spiritual.

■ Physical Wellness

Physical wellness is about maintaining a healthy body. The top physical condition can be attained through physical activity, proper nutrition, getting enough sleep, and seeking medical help when needed.

Eating a healthy diet, increasing your fruits and vegetables intake and trying to limit the non-recommended foods (processed foods, refined sugars, and animal products) in your diet, encourage a stronger body, mind, and spiritual connection.

■ Occupational Wellness

Occupational wellness has to do with cultivating a sense of satisfaction toward your job. It can be achieved by finding a balance between work and leisure, which will help you promote health, a sense of self-worth and find enrichment in your life (financial reward). Occupational wellness enables you to explore various options to pursue occupational opportunities you enjoy the most, allows you to develop the necessary skills and talents that are both personally and professionally satisfying.

To attain occupational wellness you should evaluate yourself and your occupational needs (figure out what kind of job you enjoy and reflect on what occupational tasks you find exhausting), practice transparency and proper conflict management with your colleagues, set realistic career goals for yourself and constantly work towards attaining them.

■ Social Wellness

Social wellness refers to how you interact with others, creating and maintaining a genuine connection with those around you. You will enjoy great health benefits if you are socially well. You can develop your social skills by being open to learning new things and understanding other people's diverse distinct cultures, helping them cultivate their self-worth, showing kindness and motivate them to reach their full potential.

■ Emotional Wellness

Emotional health refers to the stability of your emotions. It deals with how you manage your feelings, especially during crisis or times when you get angry. Being emotionally well means you are in control of your feelings and behavior. You are capable of facing life's challenges and able to bounce back from your low points. Emotional health does not mean feeling happy all the time or feeling perfect emotion all the time. You can still feel stress, anger, and sadness, but you know how to manage your negative feelings effectively and appropriately express your reactions.

Emotional wellness is about having a generally optimistic outlook, accepting who you are, treating yourself and others properly. The way you feel can affect your ability to carry out regular tasks, your relationships, your mental health, and your overall wellness.

■ Mental Wellness

Mental health refers to the functioning of your brain. It largely refers to cognitive processes such as critical thinking, memory, reasoning, and attention. A mentally well person makes appropriate decisions, handles challenges, relates well with others, enjoys life, and functions productively.

Good mental health can be maintained through practicing optimism, cultivating healthy relationship, acknowledging what you can and cannot change about yourself (knowing and accepting your strengths and weaknesses and make the best of what you have), maintaining a healthy lifestyle (exercising regularly, eating balanced meals, having enough sleep), performing acts of kindness, and seeking professional help if necessary.

Financial Wellness

Financial wellness refers to your overall financial status. Inadequate finances are the most common source of worries among people. Financial security, on the other hand, enables you to live a satisfying life: being able to go out, travel, eat, and buy what you want, whatever.

A lot of people are living paycheck to paycheck with no money in savings and having a lot of debt. To get on track financially, believe that you are capable of improving your economic condition, overcoming obstacles. Commit to that belief and act for positive changes. Step out of your comfort zone, learn new things and start meeting people to show what you can offer. Have the financial freedom which allows you to enjoy life fully.

Environmental Wellness

Environmental wellness is about being aware of the interconnectedness between the environment, community and yourself and behaves in a manner that care and protect for each of these responsibly. Your actions, behavior, thinking, and eating habits must have its connection to nature. It is about coming into alignment with nature.

Self-Responsibility

Self-responsibility is choosing to take ownership of your situation or circumstances instead of blaming outside forces like luck, fate, coincidence, or other people. You don't allow others to take control over decisions you need to make for yourself and you are aware of both the causes and consequences of your behavior.

Balance

There are various aspects of your life that you need to constantly keep in balance — family, health, work, career, friends, and spiritual development. If any of these aspects draw too much attention, you will relatively neglect the other aspects. That throws you off — and you are unable to move forward until a balance can be reestablished. You have to align each of them so that you can devote equal attention to all areas to balance it all out. Achieving balance allows you to reach your goals and your purpose in life.

The most effective way to achieve balance in the mind and spirit is to start with the body. Healthy eating, therefore, will bring health and balance into the body.

Spiritual Wellness

Spiritual wellness is finding connections and cultivating meaning, beliefs, values, attitudes, purposes, and love toward life, environment, world, or divinity. It also includes healthy eating, loving, playing, sharing, working, sleeping and living a spiritually driven life.

Positive and Proactive

Wellness requires a positive outlook and values by which to live, becoming aware of and making choices toward a healthy and fulfilling life. Maintaining total wellness is necessary to attain a higher quality of life. Everything you do, eat, think, and every emotion you feel links to your total well-being. All these can help promote an overall healthier lifestyle.

DXN is a Total Company

DXN is a multilevel marketing company based in Malaysia. Founded by Datuk Dr. Lim Siow Jin in 1993. DXN is well-known for its Ganoderma-based products. Its product lines include dietary supplements, food and beverages, personal care products, and household products.

When it comes to providing good health, DXN is your good partner to positively impact the quality of care delivered to you and to your children. The company offers a wide range of quality health products that meet the requirements of a good health foundation. No food can provide all the nutrients a body requires, so taking a variety of food and supplements on a regular basis can make a difference.

Boost Your Immunity With Enzymes!

Written by Rustum 'Jojo' B. Alcuezar

Enzymes are not just necessary for digestion, but for all your physiological processes. Enzymes help accelerate biological processes necessary for your body to function properly, circulate nutrients, get rid of toxins, produce energy, absorb oxygen, break down fats in your blood, regulate cholesterol and triglyceride levels, properly regulate hormone, dissolve blood clots, fight infections and heal wounds, reduce inflammation, slow down the aging process, and more which directly correlates with dramatic improvements in health and longevity.

Enzymes are needed for every chemical reaction that occurs in our body. Without enzymes, no activity at all would take place. Neither vitamins, minerals, nor hormones can do any work without enzymes. Food would just sit in your gut and slowly rot. Enzymes help accelerate chemical reactions in your body. Without enzymes, these reactions would take place too slowly to keep you alive. Aside from helping in building your muscle, destroying toxins, and breaking down food particles during digestion, enzymes also help cells to communicate with each other, keeping cell growth, life and death under control.

Raw fruits and vegetables are good source of enzymes. Your body, too, produces enzymes. However, Dr. Edward Howell, physician and food enzyme researcher, believed that we were born with a limited enzyme-producing capacity. "Your life expectancy depends on how well you preserve your enzyme potential." Dr. Howell explains. "As you get older, you don't produce adequate amounts of some enzymes anymore. Your life ends when it gets to the point that you can't make certain enzymes, thus an appropriate enzyme supplementation maybe useful.
